MADISON, NJ--This past season, the Devils of FDU-Florham battled and struggled through a very difficult season. In 2007-08, FDU-Florham, which is one of three New Jersey colleges that are located within a few miles of one another on the main street in Madison, New Jersey, was only able to win three games this past season. The Devils finished the year at 3-22 overall including a 2-10 mark in the Freedom Conference. Both conference wins were against Delaware Valley Conference including a 77-72 win at home on January 23rd, and an 85-79 victory at Delaware Valley on February 19th.

Amidst the hardship of the 2007-08 season, which included a 69-45 loss to Misericordia of the Pennsylvania Athletic Conference at home on November 24 in a college hoops game that was covered by GMC Hoops, former J.P. Stevens standout, Andrew Biancosino grew into a starting role that provided a solid contribution, and a bright spot that gave some hope for next season. In 2007-08, Biancosino played in and started all 25 FDU-Florham games. In those games, the now junior, who stands 6'3" and 215 lbs according to the information provided by the FDU-Florham web site, averaged just about 30 minutes per game. Getting plenty of playing time after contributing off the bench for the Devils in 2006-07, Biancosino clicked on 76 of 214 shot attempts, or 35.5 percent from the floor overall including 22 of 84 from beyond the arc for 26.2 percent.

In addition to his shooting from the floor, Biancosino connected on 32 of 44, or 72.7 percent of his attempts from the foul line. Tallying those shooting statistics up, the junior swingman, compiled a total of 206 points, or 8.2 points per game. On the boards, Biancosino collected a total of 103 rebounds including 21 on the offensive glass for an average of 4.1 per game. He also added 46 assists, or 1.8 dishes per contest, and 19 steals, or about 0.8 swipes per game. Over the three seasons that Biancosino has played at FDU-Florham, he has played in all 77 games for the Devils including 27 starts, and compiled a total of 424 points, or a three year average of 5.5 points per game, 270 rebounds, or an average of 3.5 boards per contest, 87 assists, or an average of 1.1 per game, and 43 steals, or an average of 0.6 per game.

During the three seasons Biancosino has played at FDU-Florham, the Devils, have put together a record of 26-51 with the worse of the three seasons being this past year. However, in all fairness, the Devils had perhaps one of its most successful seasons ever in 2006-07 with a 17-10 overall mark including a 9-5 mark in the Freedom Conference, and most importantly, lost a great deal of talent and experience from that squad. Four seniors from that team including three of the four top scorers on the roster, which combined for about 53.6 percent of FDU-Florham's offense that season, graduated with only Ryan McPherson, a junior guard from West Orange, New Jersey as well as the likes of Biancosino to try and make up the loss of output in 2007-08. Another former GMC player, Nick Shaw, who originally played at Ramapo College, was on the roster the previous two seasons, but didn't play in 2007-08 as he eventually joined the coaching staff at South Amboy.
